Our preacher this week will be Ross Chapman. Ross is originally from Indianapolis, but graduated from Castle High School in 2002. During college and seminary, he served at Crossroads as an intern in adult ministries and high school ministry between 2005 and 2008, and he was ordained in 2009 before moving to Charlotte, NC. Since moving back to Evansville in 2015, he has served in hospitality, as a small groups coach, the Momentum video curriculum project, Men's Fraternity, the West Campus launch, and the Nursery.

He is the Founder and President of For Evansville, a social entrepreneurial organization committed to cultivating collaboration among churches and community leaders for the common good. He is the Executive Producer of Left Turn Productions and has worked with E is for Everyone. Previously, Ross was the Executive Director of CHARLOTTE/ONE in Charlotte, NC and worked with 50 local churches to engage Millennials.

He is a Doctoral candidate at Fuller Theological Seminary, and he earned a Master of Divinity from Trinity Evangelical Divinity School and a Bachelor of Arts from Taylor University in Business Management and Christian Education.

He and his wife Candace have been married 9 years and live in downtown Evansville with their three sons, William, Pierce, and Beckett.

This past Sunday, August 9, the Quilters gave all of our graduating high schoolers throws. These throws were personalized for the following:

Annie Engelbrecht—USI

Grace Crecelius—Butler

Meredith Garcia—DePaul

College blessings were then read for them to round out the special celebration. Thank you Quilters for always thinking of your church family!
