Our Interim Pastor

LOVE

This morning I was thinking about the song "Seasons of Love" by Jonathan D Larson featured in the musical "Rent." I haven't seen the production, but have heard the song a few times, it is rather catchy. The opening stanza of the song ends with the question "How do you measure, measure a year?"

How will we measure this season in the life of Eastminster? This is a time when the Pastor Nominating Committee is beginning the work of calling a new permanent pastor. It is a time when we are involved in more in-person activities. Some of our kids and adults have spent time at camp. It is the summer season, giving many a chance to relax a bit, some involved in travel to interesting places or to be with family. There are lots of ways we can mark the passage of this time during this season. "How about love?" as the refrain of the Broadway song goes.

Of course we will love one another as members of the same church family. Of course we will continue loving God and accepting the love God pours upon us, and we will continue loving our neighbors in various ways. Love is what binds us together and defines who we are as a people of faith. What other ways can you share love with one another? Is there someone you have on your heart? Remember to share that with them. However else we mark time's passing, let's all do our best to measure each season by sharing God's love with one another.

Blessings,
J.T.

EPC NEEDS YOUR UNWANTED UMBRELLAS!

Do you have an umbrella, perhaps more than one? If so, and you can spare one, please bring to the church and give to Mel Ellsperman. The church places umbrellas in the umbrella holders stationed at all the doors for when it is raining and someone has forgotten their umbrella. The person simply borrows the umbrella and brings it back the following Sunday. Help us restock our supply. Thank you!
